Below is some quick information/talking points for Elizabeth to run point on this Carlton briefing tomorrow.

Attached are:

1. A map of the HPNS and Yosemite Slough site
2. The four-pager (previously used) for the HPNS and Yosemite Slough site
3. HPNS HQ budget paper
4. Factsheet on Brownfields in BVHP
5. Factsheet on Parcel A
6. Factsheet on Yosemite Slough

Below is a summary of three days of events:

- Carlton will arrive Friday evening and staying in a hotel in San Francisco, leaving on Monday mid-day.
- On Saturday morning, the site team will provide a detailed site briefing at our Region 9 EPA office and a site tour later in the day.
- Between Saturday and Sunday, we are planning a visit to the Open Studios artist event on the site, a windshield tour of the community and a nearby Brownfields project, and a virtual meeting with the Office of Community Investment and Infrastructure (OCII, the former SF Redevelopment Agency) to learn about the robust redevelopment plans for the former shipyard.
- Between Saturday and Monday, the site team is lining up one-on-one or small group conversations with different community groups. These will either be virtual (where Carlton will be at the Region 9 EPA office), at an outdoor location, or possibly in our EPA office. So far, we have confirmation from four groups: residents who live on Parcel A (the luxury condo and townhouses at The SF Shipyard); residents from the India Basin Neighborhood Association; the Hunters Point Shipyard Artists; and members of the Hunters Point Shipyard Citizens Advisory Committee. We are waiting to hear from the Hunters Point Family (which should include the Young Community Developers). Once those meetings are scheduled, we will follow-up with other groups you have already met with to provide them the remaining timeslot for a virtual or in-person meeting our EPA office (Bayview-Hunters Point EJ Task Force (Greenaction), Bayview-Hunters Point Community Advocates, Hunters Point Community Biomonitoring Program, Public Employees for Environmental Responsibility (PEER), and Committee to Bridge the Gap).

- Laura will need to fill in our interaction with MAYOR's OFFICE and/or Pelosi or Feinstein's office.

Tomorrow before our noon call, I will finish the Event Memos. We can pick this up again tomorrow at noon.
